

The Monthly Observations

for March 2025

Welcome to Psychic & Energy Work's Observations for this month, "March 2025". They aim to help you make sense of life as a spiritual and energetic sphere as it unfolds. Implicit in this is intuition and how it presents to take care of us all. Numerology adds amazingly to this when it is used on a spiritual level.

These Observations can be worth reading with This Year's forecast. Do that here; scroll down to discover what's in store This Month; visit The Archives to review last or earlier months.

Before we begin...

These Observations are a mix of words (here) and video (on YouTube). Hopefully, smaller chunks of info delivered in bits will help you digest what Fran has written. Please let her know how you find this.

Recapping last month...

Did you feel freer as "March" unfolded? Able to consider the way ahead more? Astrological shifts and six "4"s helped energies and perspectives lighten. "Four" is "prepare"; it's self doing the groundwork. Every phase and number does that but, in zones where six "4"s come calling, greater clarity around all sorts of things is likely. Last month's master numbers bolstered such rhythms and, through this, guided selves to firmer ground. We're not finished yet. It's a powerful year that wants imbalance released, ended, resolved.

Karmic vibes – master numbers - always bring extra spiritual vibes and development. The universe, Source, is always focused forward. It knows how to get "there", even at microscopic levels. Life constantly offers cues about our next, best steps. Humans are odd. We can often misread or dismiss what presents intuitively. We're at a point in time where we're still realising the role of gut feel in long-term, genuine, successful life. This year's a game-changer on this count. Source is less and less inclined to wait for humans to choose when they embrace their spiritual side in relationship.

"Four" can be read as "lay helpful groundwork"; "do, be, live in/with awareness". Master number zones ask people to consider, care for and integrate with all. That shouldn't mean dismissal of any aspect of self – even egoic narratives inform and guide when we let them speak. Everything has a spiritual purpose. "February"s "2027/11/2" and "145/10/1" flagged the chance to work with – perhaps mentor – what was less-than-totally-open, fair-minded, win-win. If you found yourself striving to clear up fogs or approaches? Well done! You were definitely positioning well with things. Checking, questioning, honing frameworks is never a waste of time. Welcome and enjoy any need to clarify things.

“11” and “10” phases often ask self to act in ways that truly take care of integrity. Grace is key here – the willingness to lose for the greater good. That’s Source’s choice – not any earth-bound being. We can all act as ruler from time to time. Any stance of rightness or leadership can breed spiritual arrogance. Mindsets which affirm hero, victim, autocrat, saint or rescuer don’t breed long-term success. Attainment requires us to all count and care. We manifest perfection when we honour universal will, outcomes and wisdom. Self’s supposed to thrive in such landscapes. Spirituality shouldn’t see what matters – to any atom - ignored. We’re here to back our values not dismiss them. Choosing to connect with and be guided by divine intelligence helps keep self in balance as a valid and supported part of the whole.

So.... Last month came to flag the role of such dynamics. With “luck”, life helped you represent divine self in solid, practically spiritual ways. For all the sense of insights, did you find it less forward-moving? Click on this link to watch Fran explore this in her YouTube Observations for “This March” – Part 1.

THIS “MARCH”’S PROFILE

Each month delivers its own dynamics which interact with the year’s chart. Checking out the numbers in this respect can help explain what’s going on. Profiles like this can boost resilience, stamina, confidence, trust in life. Outlined below are this “March”’s numbers followed by some Observations.

Oh and ps.... It might be worth reading Fran’s Observations about This New Year before you continue. They will reinforce what’s discussed below.

This Month’s Chart

	each year	in 2025
Birth Number - what we’re here to learn about, channel & exemplify	3	2028/3
M.O. – the rhythms/lessons that will steer self to the birth number	25/7	128/2
Reality Number - the spiritual result(s) of doing such things	30/3	2156/5

This "March"s numerological tally....

Combined with the year's numerological profile, this month produces the following count. Examining a chart from this angle helps us understand what's going on. It doesn't, in itself, signal "good" or "bad". What we can find initially jarring comes to guide us to better end states if we let it.

The tally for this "March" is:

Number	0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Frequency	4	4	10	5	2	4	1	1	3	1

When a number presents three or more times, its energetic and spiritual themes (and lessons!) tend to increase. Bear in mind that I haven't included your personal chart here. The numbers in that will reinforce the tally above. Get in contact if you'd like me to explore this with you.

Let's look at how this month could present in your world....

"March"s birth numbers are "3" and "2028/3"

realising, sharing, manifesting well

Two "three"s at birth number level signal a phase for developing creating skills. "3" is "manifest"; it's flow in and out; how we position with giving and receiving. Everything starts on the energetic level. Physical world outputs flow from what's affirmed. "Expression" is a key "three" dynamic. Where might this month help you with yours?

Receiving information; making room for stuff to flow in; embracing feedback no matter your view.... All numbers point to spiritual development and, therefore, moving further into our conscious, adult boots. "2028" reduces to "12" on its way to "3". "Twelve" can be seen as a master number. It likes to help self nestle into flow and, through this, get the hang of how life functions for your "me" uniquely. That is a landscape we're forever discovering. One might sense things strongly; another, not at all. "2028" flags insights that boost self-knowledge and stances that play out well.

"202" points to selves realising how to position with their "me", others, life. "12/3" promotes clarity and, through this, leaves folk feeling slightly firmer and empowered. Each path is unique, not totally foreign. "3" is "realise" – a time for seeing/getting the full meaning and purpose of what plays through. It can find mysteries being explained; old stuff cleared up; amazing healing. In "three" zones, we can also feel more intuitive. The Divine's always offering wisdom. Do we know we can trust "this bit" well? Self can busy mind in ways that stymie flow. Don't be surprised if this "March" helps truth blossom – the type you can use to step into next.

Two "three"s, in this sense, could leave you feeling sharper and ready to get going in ways you have been longing for. There have been a few potent planetary shifts of late. "March" could see momentum building energetically, mentally and/or physically in your world. "3" is a phase which helps us embrace flow as a dialogue, supply and/or event. Five “three”s in this month's chart all up could heighten how you harness insights like these.

“Three” also flags lessons in creating. How can we help to manifest good? There is a lot of power in “3”-heavy phases. Self can suddenly start interfacing better with things. A strong part of success in collective landscapes is our willingness to communicate. Fran talks more about this and what this month's birth numbers could trigger in your world in Part 2 of her YouTube Observations about “March 2025”. Clearing Cards® help you (re-)connect

Life flows best when we let go of all egoic self. Mind can pull us off-track. Taking time to reboot makes a difference. Everything's linked and explained, assuming we allow that to happen. Psychic & Energy Work's Clearing Cards® carry two levels of message. Either or both can help you shift and intuit more. To purchase or read more, go through to Fran's Shop.

This month's M.O.s are “25/7” and “128/2”

big picture truths; a time to see more

This month's chart is interesting. It speaks of a very informative time. With this, can come the sense that one is learning things that really help it and life. “Constructive” is an apt descriptor here. This year's helping selves get life right as a formula and event. Don't be surprised if this month leaves you, somehow, more content.

“25/7” presents every “March”. That flags wisdom; a time when self gets clearer about certain things. “Seven” often leaves people feeling surer about how “this” goes with “that” in a real-world, useful sense. It can link people into more knowing to the point where no questions remain. “7” flags universal wisdom; big picture stances; knowing that is calm. It can be read as meditation; guidance that helps us leverage off all we understand now. Here, it is intuitive receiving; the type that helps us consciously check and choose.

“Seven” chapters seek to connect self into solid, useful ways and being. “Five” is part of this month's generic M.O. That flags evolution and change. Within or external, it can show self how to be tolerant, allowing, forgiving at new levels. This dovetails into Fran's YouTube video about this “March's birth numbers – her Monthly Observations Part 2 - how communication matters in manifesting perfect fit. This “March” could prompt/invite you to get into big picture knowing all over again.

This month's specific M.O. is "128/2". That is a subtle master number. A second "8", here, suggests that we're about to discover how to be, exchange and share better. That's a no brainer at this point of time. At global and personal levels, the need for growth (evolution) is loud. "Two" can flag a time for learning how to dance better. Implicit in this is informing, learning, mentoring and partnering better where that's needed. "11" – "1" + "2" + "8" – wants spiritual growth – that can want grace at certain times. Spirituality seeks honest, open relationship between "me" and what "I" call the Divine. "1" is true self without qualms or hold-backs. It's self knowing self as a complete, great, unique plus. We're all human with so much more to learn and do. Embracing such isms can help us add value in all the ways we know we're here to.

So? This month could link you into bigger picture insights in ways you harness/use more truthfully or spiritually. Busyness could feature given the "5" and "8" which are presenting in the M.O. frequencies. Action, buzz and hype will help us all discover useful stuff about knowing, sharing, acting, manifesting well. Can you sense how the last few months have prepared you or others for this? You could, therefore, find things coming together more and more this "March". Look after your spiritual practice. Cement it in. Giving the Divine space to share and guide pays well.

Fran looks at other ways in which this month could help you step into your manifesting in Part 3 of her Observations for "March 2025" on YouTube. Click here to watch that and get in contact if you want a reading, mentoring or other forms of energy work.

clearings, healings & meditations over video or phone

... not to mention readings and other forms of energy work. Life can present in ways that stun, often just as we need to stay grounded. Via phone, video or email, Fran tunes in to help you understand and clear. Sessions are recorded so that you can revisit the guidance you're given.

"March"s reality numbers are "30/3" and "2156/5"

flow, empowerment, receiving

More "3"s, here, reinforce what's been written above about this "March"s birth numbers. It's worth observing that this month's chart carries more active numbers. That flags a more dynamic, forward-moving chapter. We've had a few months of slower pace. This one could see flow returning – as insight, offering, opportunity or action (as in, in several ways).

Get ready to be busy! You could have an empowering time. Yet, “thirty” speaks of space; the need for silence as a potent, rebooting, healing tool. “3” is “receive”. That's key in manifesting. We're not just here to give, do or make. Those stances give into life's landscape but there can be too much focus on them. To give genuinely, we have to take in well. “3”, being “flow”, speaks too of self's ability and willingness to take in. Where might life show you how to more completely let goodness in?

“0”, in one sense, says “acknowledge your guidance”; “talk with (and hear from) That which feeds your soul”. “3”, being receiving, can see people discovering how to better look after themselves. Giving, as a stance, needs to start with your self. We are so much more than transactional beings AND in a phase where life's wanting people to unlearn/release models that overly-focused on such things. Everything starts on the energetic level. Balance needs to be felt before it presents on other planes. “30” says “take healthy time out to connect (back) to Source to check, learn and see what life needs from and for you next”.

“3”, being receive, can encourage selves to practice taking in, accepting, digesting good. Healthy flow is balanced give-take. How are you going with this? “0” says “listen to your guidance”; “choose to let it guide you where it now can”. Take time out is an important message in this month's chart.

Manifesting needs self truly engaged for truly effective, long-lasting results. It is only when every atom releases that flow, in full form, can occur. These words are important wherever self is struggling with less than it knows is possible.

Let go to let in. That needn't mean loss or throwing genuine value away. Egoic self can struggle with this. This month's specific reality number – “2156/5” – is calling for change. “Five” can want us linking into more of our potential. That's a continual learning curve. As in, not just the scope we're currently aware of. “5” is a “stretch into no limit” zone. It often highlights the limits/lack we're living with and dares us to reach for the more, the new, real-world upgrades. Over-mindful self is great at drawing boundaries and wondering why it's physically missing out on things it craves.

Here, this month's M.O.s will also play through to nudge selves out of knowing that thwarts. “5” is the fact that there is no limit; a moment that helps self sense and allow that in again.

Hence, this month's end states want to speak of freedom; fresh air; more room to move, be and do. Liberate self in all the ways you sense you can. There is no need to fear or withhold. “Six” presents in “2156/5” to let us know Source has our back. Don't be surprised if “March” feels more supportive on intuitive or interpersonal levels. Fran discusses “5” and “6” in Part 4 of her Monthly Observations for this March on YouTube. Click on this link to watch that. Never let mind – yours or other – diminish or thwart you.

What about your chart?

We each have a specific numerological profile that stems from our date of birth, full birth name and last birthday. I've outlined the collective rhythms for this month but have not talked about your personal chart. Readings that merge numbers with intuitive downloads can help you transition through all sorts of things. They're all about soul - linking to and channelling it more - and what can occur when we do this.

Click here to watch Fran's Monthly Update for "March 2025" on youtube. It supplements these Monthly Observations and, hopefully, helps you. This March has a chart that resonates very strongly with 2025 as a year. It's here to help people sense their place as manifesters, influencers and creators to the next degree. Within this, comes the need to play the long game; not get caught up in the pull (and drama!) of day-to-day. In this video, Fran explains how this March is helping self click and anchor in to its whole-of-life plan, path and gear.
